

Quotient, the Game is based on the books The Quantum Contingent and Quantum Time by Gregory R. Simpson. Both of those books have Spotify playlists with a song for each chapter. The songs relate in some way to the chapter of the book.

Keeping in this tradition, Quotient, the Game has a song for every room. You create your playlist as you move throughout the game. At anytime, you can see the song associated with a room by typing the command song. View your personalized playlist by typing the command playlist and you will see the songs associated with each of the rooms you have visited.
